

Mokena Will Pay Tribute To War Dead

Guy Bush Umpires First Inning Of Pony Game

A big, colorful parade preceded the dedication of the baseball park at Orland Park last Saturday afternoon. In the parade were decorated autos, baseball players of the Little League and Pony League, in fine new uniforms Cub Scouts, Brownies, Girl and Boy Scouts, business men, and a sound truck. With this parade the ball season for Orland Park was officially opened. Games will start in the middle of June.

Highlighting the occasion was Guy Bush, former pitcher for the Cubs and who has pitched against Babe Ruth and other baseball greats. He umpired the first inning for the Pony League. This game was won by the Mokena Pony League, with a score of 11 to 5. Mokena's Little League team won the second game, defeating Orland 9 to 0.

Bush, who appeared through the compliments of Chicago sporting goods dealer, gave a brief talk before the double-header started. He spoke inspiringly on the subject of baseball, pointing out first the need of good sportsmanship in the game, second, the value of learning to take orders from the coach, and third, the importance of being polite.

Much time and effort was spent on the planning of this parade. The fact that this was the first parade held in Orland in four years rather complicated the matter of its planning, but at the same time made it more attractive to residents.

Both Mokena and Orland are members of the Wilco Little League at Frankfort. Eighteen boys are on each team. It has been found that so many want to join that it may be necessary to form another team to accommodate them.

Praises Home Ec Department At L-W

Mr. A. Hunter Chapman, Superintendent of Lincoln-Way high school has received a letter from Mildred Reel, Supervisor, Home Economics Education, Springfield, with reference to her visit to Lincoln-Way's home making department on April 25. The letter, in substance, commends the home making department, which is under the direction of Mrs. Florence Butler, and recognizes that a strong homemaking program is being developed at Lincoln-Way.

"The addition of a second teacher for next year," the letter states, "is a step forward and will provide greater opportunity for broadening the home making program."

"At the time of my visit," the letter further states, "the requirements of the vocational homemaking program were being met in these respects:

"An active chapter of Future Homemakers has developed a well rounded program for the year and is an integral part of the homemaking program."

"The adult program serves a functional purpose in the community and enriches the home-making program in your school."

"Your homemaking teacher is well qualified and interested in professional growth and advancement."

Many other items were listed, all carrying a note of approval and commendation.

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of both parties. - Dillon, (S.C.) Herald.

The program is to begin at 8 o'clock.

The class will be presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel, principal of the school. The diplomas will be given out by the president of the board of education, Robert Geuther.

The speaker is to be County Superintendent of Schools Verne E. Crackel. "Quality Counts" is to be the theme of his discourse.

Asks Zoning Board To Approve Site For "Kiddy Land"

The petition of Frank Jurcak, owner of Valley View farm, asking that property now zoned as farmland be classified as B-3 to permit the operation there of a "kiddy land," has been taken under advisement by the Will county zoning board. Hearing on the petition was conducted at Mokena last Thursday night. There were no objections filed nor were there any objectors at the hearing.

The property in question is located at the northeast corner of the intersection of Wolf road and U. S. 30.

Mr. Jurcak has leased the site for an amusement center for youngsters, subject of course, to approval of the request for rezoning the land.

At the hearing Mr. Jurcak told the zoning board that the state highway department has indicated that it will designate the approach to Wolf road from both sides along Route 30 as a "no-passing zone." Parking will be prohibited on both sides of the highway in the vicinity of the entrance to the amusement site.

There will be room on the site, Jurcak added, to park 2,000 cars. Mr. Jurcak was represented at the hearing by Attorney Ralph Murphy of the law firm of Barr and Barr.

Well it is too bad we cannot understand it would be better for all of us—villages, towns, unincorporated communities, farms etc. to clean up before the state shames us all by forcing us to take action.

Sell 500 Sundaes On Tuesday Evening

Fitzers Frosties, New Lenox, never had any doubt that advertising pays, but they were doubly sure of it recently, when they ran an ad in the Semmler Newspapers announcing a two-for-one sale on sundaes, malts and hot dogs. Buy one and get one free. The sale started at 5:30 p.m. and continued until closing.

During those few hours they sold more than 500 sundaes, more than 400 malts, and they ran out of hot dogs after they hit the 700 mark. This was not "all in a day's work," but all in one evening.

There was a long line on the streets, but everybody who waited it out felt well rewarded.

All members of every club affiliated with the Garden Club of Illinois are invited. Mrs. Lawrence F. McClure of Highland Park is president of the Garden Club of Illinois.

With so many clubs entered competition will be keen and there should be some excellent exhibits, according to those in charge of arrangements. Originators of "Flowerama"

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:
I am in receipt of a letter from an out-of-town friend describing some of the conditions observed in the New Lenox area which are very noticeable and offensive not only to residents but to persons passing through or those seeking homesites.

Hickory Creek, running through these parts, becomes a sewer and dump. Refuse, rubbish and dead animals are deposited there. Besides those dumped from time to time in and about the village and on roads around the vicinity there and elsewhere.

There have been some cases of "passing the buck," or forgetting the complaints entirely. Some of these messes have been rather horrible.

As to sewage a number of people both inside and out of the village (New Lenox, but it could apply to other communities) just throw refuse onto the lot. Others extend tiling to join that of another and then the people work to bring the tiling into a roadside ditch. Sometimes the tile is run under the road to the ditch on the other side. Sometimes sewage is blocked off and unless there are heavy enough rains to carry it away, stagnant pools are formed along roads that just stand there.

I understand a state law was passed several years ago forbidding such conditions, but that they are a threat to health, but nothing seems to faze the citizens or prompt them to some concerted action.

Well it is too bad we cannot understand it would be better for all of us—villages, towns, unincorporated communities, farms etc. to clean up before the state shames us all by forcing us to take action.

Two Mokena 4-H Girls Win Honors

Thursday evening May 17 was a thrilling moment for Barbara Dougherty and Harriet Hoogstra, both of Mokena who participated in the "Share The Fun" 4-H Festival at the Pershing school in Joliet.

Barbara and Harriet danced together and were fortunate in being one of the six acts chosen to dance in the sub-district contest at St. Charles on July 6.

The winning acts of the sub-district contest will compete in the show at the Illinois State fair in Springfield, in August.

The Jolly Troopers 4-H club of Mokena are very proud of these girls and extend their congratulations, with the hope they will win again in the forthcoming show in August.

Normal U. To Offer Music Workshop At Joliet High School

Next month, beginning June 13, Illinois State Normal university will offer an extension course in music education for lower grades, at the Joliet high school.

Each course or workshop scheduled for the summer carries three semester hours of credit and is to be completed in a three week period. Registration at each center will begin at 9 a. m.

Lyle Young, assistant professor of music at Normal university, will be in charge of the course to be given in Joliet. The course is open to any teachers or administrators in the area.

BAKE SALE

The Ruth society of Immanuel Lutheran church of Mokena will conduct a home made bakery sale, Saturday, May 28 starting at 1 p.m. in the Dunham Hardware store.

GARDEN CLUBS OF AREA TO SHOW SKILLS AT ANNUAL FLOWERAMA

Twenty amateur garden clubs of the South Suburban area, including communities in Will as well as Cook county, will be represented in the second annual "Flowerama," as this spring floral show is known—to be held next week at the Jones Memorial community center, 220 E. 15th st., Chicago Heights. The show is scheduled for June 3 and 4.

Among the organizations to participate will be the New Lenox Garden club; the garden department of the Tinley Park Woman's club; the Midlothian Garden club; the Park Forest Garden club; the Markham Garden club and organizations from Flossmoor, Chicago Heights, Steger, Crete and other nearby villages.

This year "Flowerama" will feature the theme—"Land of Lincoln". This suggests not only the wealth and beauty of Illinois but also is a theme that provides a great historical background on which creative minds can draw on in preparing exhibits.

With so many clubs entered competition will be keen and there should be some excellent exhibits, according to those in charge of arrangements. Originators of "Flowerama"

Speakers Available To Discuss Sewer And Water Problem

Women's clubs, civic and service groups and other organizations interested in what the future may hold for their community, the way of water supply, sewage disposal and flood drainage are invited to request speakers on these subjects from the Metropolitan Area Study Committee, is was announced today by committee president Kenneth R. Wells.

Because the problems are interlocking and because there has been a steadily rising interest in their solution, the committee has set up a speakers bureau composed of experts in the fields of engineering, finance, water and navigation and these men are available for meetings and discussion groups at any time.

The speakers program is designed to answer questions and promote local discussions concerning an overall authority which could greatly reduce the cost of needed facilities in what has been described by a government survey as a "critical area."

According to Wells, residents in the "critical area" of Cook, DuPage, Kane and Will counties are chiefly interested in how the proposed authority would affect their community, how much it would cost and how it could solve the growing problems of a possible inadequate water supply, as well as inadequate sewage and storm drainage disposal.

Bureau speakers are prepared to answer these and any other questions which might arise. Persons interested may write the Metropolitan Area Study Committee, 33 No. LaSalle st., Chicago 2.

BOND PURCHASES

Will county residents invested $509,714 in Series E and H United States savings bonds in April 1955 according to figures received from the treasury department by Andrew Barber of Joliet, general savings bonds county chairman.

Elephant To Be Featured In VFW Carnival In Tinley

An elephant is coming to Tinley Park today, May 28. Whether he will be an Indian or an African elephant cannot be said at this writing, but every boy will know him from his ears when he arrives. At any rate he's going to be a big elephant, and he will be in the big parade this Saturday, May 28 which starts at 167th and Oak Park avenue, Tinley Park, at 2 p.m.

This is all part of the Carnival sponsored by the Bremen Post 2791 VFW, which begins today, Thursday, May 26, and will continue through Memorial day Monday, May 30. In addition to the elephant, there will be ponies, clowns, rides, games and prizes. A big crowd is expected during all five days of the carnival, drawn from this entire area.

Bremen post 2791 suggests that instead of taking a long motor trip over the holiday, on crowded, dangerous highways, a much better bet would be to spend a day or two at the carnival, where a wonderful time is in store for all.

If One Would Be Safe With Bees
Hire An Expert

There is an old adage among beekeepers - "a swarm in May is worth a ton of hay."

And either job, whether making hay or rounding up a swarm of bees, a lot of work is involved.
Most folks, it is believed, would prefer making hay. It is hot work and uses up considerable back and arm energy but on the other hand, hay seldom, if ever,
has been known to sting a person.

Another thing - practically anyone, even city dwellers can deal with hay but bees are different.

There are two ways of dealing with bees, the hard way or easy way. The easy way is to hire a bee expert.

Takes Hard Way

Edward Mrosek, Sr., of Alpine encountered a swarm of bees at his place that had settled down on a fence post. Knowing that a bee in the hive is worth a swarm on a post, Mr. Mrosek decided to do something about capturing the lot. He started out the hard way.

Following the stinging reception his efforts encountered, he put through a hurried call for advice to Mrs. Fred Stuckey of Tinley Park, from whom he had purchased his original hive of bees.

Armed with this advice and a net over his head, gloves on his hands and sleeves and trouser legs securely banded, Mr. Mrosek, smarter, but still smarting, finally managed to make the transfer from post to hive.

Haying, he thinks, is easier,
but one can't spread hay on hot biscuits.

Jean Sagan, Mrs. Al Zemeske,
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood,
Mr. and Mrs. Milton Geuther, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson. The Norval Robinsons came after dinner.

The dinner table was decorated with bouquets of tulip tree flowers from Mr. Marion Owen's tree and caused many admiring comments. There are not many, if any other, tulip trees in this vicinity, especially in flower, as the tulip tree does not bear flowers until at least 30 years old.

Mrs. Lehmann and Mrs. Swart were in charge of the program and provided many enjoyable games.

Memorial Day March

A bugle sounds; the band begins to play,
This day is for the dead; this is Memorial Day.
The air is sweet with Spring, and yet,
High in the peacetime sky there roars a jet!
A muted cannon, pointing to the sky
Marks the spot where Union soldiers lie.
And over where the tall white flagpole stands
Lie men who fought and died in foreign lands.
"But not forgotten" . . . Springfield rifles crack . . .
A volley from the buddies who came back!
Behind the trill of life and roll of drum,
From Gettysburg and Midway Isle they come!
O'Hare and Colin Kelly, Grant and Sherman, too,
Patton, Bong and Wainwright . . . soldiers staunch and true.
Korea, Okinawa . . . stand aside . . . make way,
Our fallen U. S. heroes march again today!

Illinois
TAX
FACTS

By George J. Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

A poll of taxpayer opinion throughout Illinois resulted in a 59.6% vote against any new or increased state tax whatsoever by the Illinois General Assembly despite a warning that the only possible alternative to increased revenue would be curtailment of state services, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois
reports.

Questionnaires and ballots
were mailed by the Taxpayers'
Federation early in April to 11-600 taxpayers scattered throughout the state. Ballots have been received from Chicago and from every downstate senatorial district, the federation reports, with 1470 ballots already tabulated and replies still coming in.

Headed "what should policy of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois be," the questionnaires opened with the following statement:
"Gov. Stratton in his March 28 budget message, advocates an increase in the present 2% sales tax to 3%, for one year, to increase state income by about 100 million dollars for the coming biennium. The Taxpayers' Federation staff advises that the only possible alternative to increased revenue would be curtailment of state services.

"The state has been spending more than its income since 1947,
living off the surplus accumulated during war years; that surplus is now about gone. To continue the existing level of state aid for schools will require an increase of around $46,000,000 for the next biennium due to increased enrollments. Demands for increases from state colleges and universities, from the department of public welfare, for public aid, etc. etc. add up to additional multi-million dollar increases. Not all demands, obviously, are warranted, but some increases are warranted and are inevitable.

"Despite the above, do you believe that the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois should oppose any new or increased state tax whatsoever?"

Despite the above, 59.6% of the votes on this question were yes, that the Taxpayers' Federation should oppose any new or increased state tax whatsoever.

The poll was taken by the Taxpayers' Federation to get a cross-section opinion of taxpayers throughout the state on this major issue as a basis for determining policy from the grassroots up. In light of the poll results, policy is being reconsidered and a program for the current legislative session will be announced shortly, the federation
says.

By Rep. John M. King

During the next three and one-half months laws enacted by your Illinois General Assembly will directly affect the way you run your home, your business or
the way you work on our job.
Bills already introduced during the first months of the six session of the 69th Assembly will, if passed, regulate a wide range of your every-day activities.

Before final adjournment this June 30, legislation may be passed that would set a speed limit on the highways, raise the sales tax, increase unemployment benefits and even make it illegal for bakeries to sell an unwrap-ped loaf of bread.

Before the turn of the century
a representative could keep in close personal contact with most of his constituents. He could tell them what was going on in Springfield and get their firsthand opinions on pending legislation.

Today the large population makes this traditional method of individual polling impossible.
For example, the 41st district that I represent contains more than 300,000 people.

The purpose of this column is to give you a regular report on the activities of the state legislature so you will know what is going on in Springfield and what your government is doing with your money.

The General Assembly moves slowly during the first months of any session. Committees must be set up to consider measures introduced and bills must be drafted in a form exactly prescribed by law before they can be presented.

The seemingly lazy pace of the House and Senate in acting on the laws of the state is deceptive. The members are preparing to speed up action to the point where, during the closing days of the session, as many as fifty or one hundred bills may be passed in a single day.

Some bills already introduced and waiting further action by the lawmakers are of importance not only to the northern Illinois area but to the entire state.

One such measure would set up a drainage and storm water commission to study conditions that resulted in widespread floods last fall.

Another lowers the minimum voting age to 18 years.

Other bills affecting elections
would change the primary date
to the second Tuesday in June,
require the use of election machines in all counties and permit absentee voting for persons who are sick or disabled.

One seat transportation to Chicago for our area's residents could be assured by passage of a bill I have introduced in the House. It empowers the Illinois Commerce commission to investigate and settle the differences between the Chicago Transit authority and the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railway upon the request of either group. A similar bill has been introduced in the Senate.

Measures that would revamp
the Illinois judicial system and the revenue code are now pending before both houses. They are similar to bills introduced in the past.

The working man and woman will be affected by the fate of bills that increase the amount accommodate the barges carry-the industry by the March of and length of unemployment ing that coal, a three-quarter-compensation, raise occupational Time, has been included in a disease and workmen's compen- catalogue of American motion sation benefits, set up a 75 cent pictures being distributed an hour minimum wage and es- throughout the world by the U. S.

tablish standards of fair em- Information Agency.

"Powering America's Progress," a color film on coal mining and utilization produced for Korean veterans may receive a state bonus as did World War II veterans. A resolution to establish a commission to investigate bonus plans is in the Senate.

A bill to establish a sixty mile an hour passenger car speed limit has been tossed into the hopper and measures requiring safety belts and automatic turn signals on all cars are now on file.

The explosive toll road situation has been under fire since the legislature met and one resolution for a sweeping probe of the entire program was narrowly defeated in the House recently. Other bills to sharply restrict the powers of the toll road commission are pending.

Unusual bills introduced prohibit the sale of toy guns that look too much like the real thing, ban women wrestlers and outlaw drive-in movies visible from roads.

The operetta Hansel and Gretel, was presented last Friday, May 20, at 8 p.m. It was held in the gymnasium of the Tinley Park public school.

The scenery used for the operetta was made by Mrs. Miriam Zahler. Pupils from different classes assisted her. Peggy Darby, Mary Ann Wolf, and George Koester did the most to help out.

The main piece of scenery, was a ginger bread house. Other articles included a cupboard, a cage, a fence of gingerbread children, and a window. Many pupils decorated cookies during home room period.

The Bremen highschool band entertained Tinley Park school students with a concert recently. Under the direction of Bert Kunze the band played such tunes as "American Scene" which was especially written for a high-school band, "Blues in the Band" and many others. First trumpeter, Les Borms, soloed in "Trumpeters Lullaby". Another highlight was a story narrated by a band member to music.

After associating his audience with the various instruments of the band Director Kunze, who wore a gray uniform while band members wore red, urged them to take up an instrument now as the band members must be experienced.

The Girl Scouts of troop 334 held a cook out last week at the Carlson Springs in the Forest Preserves near Tinley Park. After the trail laying the scouts cooked their dinner in coffee cans - hamburger, potatoes and carrots. The girls had an enjoyable time and wish to go again.

Mrs. Florence Phillips and her fourth grade class took a bird hike last week to the woods, east of Tinley Park school. By the creek that runs through the woods, Douglas White found a robin's nest. While walking across a field they saw a bird act queerly. Finally it fell to the ground and the class saw several baby birds. They were Kill Deers. The class could pick up the baby Kill Deers without harming them. Going into the woods again, they saw Blue-jays, Wrens, Goldfinches, and of course Robins. They ate lunch under the trees. Judy Blitrich got a nosebleed while there and was taken to the Burt Fulton school.

Farmers May Pay Social Security Taxes Quarterly

Farmers who hire several farm workers may be required to file their social security tax on a quarterly basis, farm advisors say.

The 1954 amendment to the social security law says that agricultural employers whose tax liability amounts to as much as $100 during the first, second or third quarters must file a return and pay the tax. The return is filed at the close of the quarter in which the $100 liability is reached. (A $100 liability is incurred when the cash payments of taxable wages is $2,500, as 4% of $2,500 equals $100. The $100 tax liability should not be confused with the $100 a year test for eligibility applied to each farm worker.

In addition to quarterly filing, if applicable in each individual case, all agricultural employers must file annually, as this is the time when individual employees are reported by name
and social security account number. The form used when filing quarterly is abbreviated and reports only wages and taxes submitted. No names are listed on the form.

More information concerning social security may be obtained from the farm bureau or the social security offices.

When Thistles Reach Bud Stage Then Sock 'Em

When Canada thistle starts coming into the bud stage, it's time to give it a 2, 4-D treatment.

The farm adviser recommends a heavy treatment if the thistles are growing in grass or if one can afford to lose the crop in order to get rid of them.

The heavy rate is one-half to one pound of 2, 4-D acid an acre just as they are coming into the bud stage. Then, he says,
give them another treatment
when they start growing again

this fall.

If one can't afford to lose a crop and want to retard thistle
2, 4-D at a much lighter rate.
The rate will depend on the crop they're in. One can find out this rate from 1955 spray recommendations available at the farm bureau.

Leaving Leaves in Hay Field Is Like Leaving Money

A poor job of haymaking may leave the feeding value of 25 bushels of corn in the field for every acre of alfalfa hay put up,
an expert says.

Leo R. Fryman, extension dairyman at the University of Illinois college of agriculture,
says that's the result of leaving half of the leaves behind when hay is put up.

Most of the feeding value of hay is in the leaves, Fryman
says.

"Save the leaves and bring your hay fields to the highest capacity of production," he says,

and goes one, "Start cutting your legume hay crop when the blossoms reach the 1-10 stage.
Leaves start dropping soon after the plants reach this stage of growth.

"It will also pay to check
long-range weather forecasts.
When the weather is threatening,
cut no more hay than you can quickly cure and store. Also, don't let the forage get too dry
before you bale it or chop it.

One way to beat the weather is to use a crusher to help cure hay faster. Or one can use a barn drying system to get the crop in earlier and make high-quality hay by saving more of the leaves, it was said.

IN MEMORIAM

KEUCH, Carrie, In loving memory of our wife and mother who passed away four years ago, May 22, 1951.

Salem Home For Aged Appeals For Elevator Fund

Salem Home for the Aged, 1317 Rowell ave., Joliet, several years ago set up an elevator fund for the purpose of acquiring an elevator with push-button control and safety devices to enable the old folks at the home to get about. Many of the old people at Salem find it impossible to use the stairs any more, because their knees will no longer carry them, or a heart condition forbids it. As a result, they must eat alone and they cannot go out of doors when the weather is nice, nor can they join in on programs provided for them.

The Salem Home is in need of about $10,000 more to get the elevator needed for the old folks, and is depending upon the aid of generous people to obtain the money needed to finish the project.

The home is owned and operated by Lutheran Social Service, Augustana Lutheran Illinois Conference. Edmund O. Rausch is superintendent.

At the June 1 meeting, memorial services will be conducted for departed sisters.

The food chairman for Poppy Day has been appointed, Evelyn Hansen will fill this chairman-ship.

LINCOLN-WAY TRACK NEWS

Frosh - Soph.
The Lincoln-Way frosh-soph track squad won its first meet of the year last Thursday, May 19 against Sandburg 51 - 49. Several outstanding performances were turned in. Ron Studnicki won the 100 and 220 yard dashes besides being anchor man on the winning half mile relay team. Lincoln-Way swept the 440 yard run with Jim Stauffenberg running a great 58.5, LaVerne Mark and Dave Erickson finished 2nd and 3rd. In the half mile little Jim Tomany took second; his 2:25.2 was his best of the year. Ed Donaldson took third in his best of the year also. In the mile relay, Jim Tomany running third pulled up from 30 feet behind to about two feet when long-legged LaVerne Mark took over and pulled away in the stretch to win by about 10 yards. Weber didn't qualify in the pole vault but made up for that in winning the high jump at 4 feet 10 inches. Cliff Mann and Lee Gear took second and third in the shot put. In the 180 low hurdles Jim Warning took second in :24.1. Rich DeForest took second in the 220 behind Studnicki.

Knights vs. Sandburg

The Lincoln-Way Knights lost a tough meet with Sandburg, 64-53, last Thursday, May 19. The meet was at Reavis. Although the Knights outpointed the Eagles in track events 38-35, Sandburg swamped the Knights in field events, 29-15. Paul Padzuikas with firsts in the high jump and the discus and a third in the shot put paced Lincoln-Way in the field events. Stan Bruns took the 100 and 220 yard dashes as well as being anchor man on the winning half mile relay team. Bob Hermann took second behind Bruns in the 220. The half mile was won by Paul Francis in 2:15.4. He was followed by Red Wade who set a terrific pace during the first part of the race. Greg Brown took second in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 180 low hurdles. John Weber took third in the mile with a 5:38.8, his best time of the year. Mark Schellenberg picked up seconds in the high jump and the 440.

Shot Put, Pole Vault

Lincoln-Way scored but one point in the shot put, pole vault and the broad jump. They will get added strength in the shot put from Sparky Hauck as soon as he hits his stride. He has done over 40 feet. Also when Red Wade regains his form in the pole vault the team will be helped, he topped 9 ft. With the improvement of these two, Lincoln-Way should have a fine and well balanced squad. Summary of events for Lincoln-Way: 120 yard high hurdles: 2nd Brown, :17.1.

MOKENA WINS TWO FROM ORLAND PARK

Dedication of the improved baseball field at Orland Park began in a big way last Saturday. It started with a big parade, with many decorated autos and with the baseball players marching.

A big time celebrity was present, making a short speech and umpiring the first inning of the Pony game, and it was none other than the great Guy Bush who not so very long ago pitched a great ball for the Chicago Cubs.

Everything was favorable for the occasion with the exception that Mokena took both games in the double header. The Pony Leaguers won the first game by the score of 11 to 5 and the Little League took the second game 9 to 0.

The Pony Leaguers started Anthony Dina but because of wildness he lasted only two innings after which Louis Johnson took over and held the opposition scoreless for the remainder of the game.

The Little League game featured home runs by little Tommy Powers, Ronnie Yunker and "Slug" Erickson who started the game and held Orland Park to two hits in the three innings he pitched and struck out five. Lauffer pitched the fourth inning and struck out the side. Joey Johnson pitched the last inning and likewise struck out the side.

While the competition was not much for Mokena the games did have some color. The season will not begin for a few weeks but the Mokena teams look like they are pretty well set for whatever the other villages may put up against them. The boys looked pretty good but they will get better.

LINCOLN-WAY SCHOOL NEWS

The retailing and bookkeeping classes of Lincoln-Way had Leland C. Stephen, Joliet, and Harold E. Holly, Oak Park, of the New York Life Insurance company as guests. Mr. Holly talked on creative selling, that is going into more detail and uses of the product rather than the plain, simple selling plan.

Selling is an advancing field and with even further advancement as the age of automation comes into being. Reasons given why selling is good for a career: are gain of prestige in the community; it is always challenging, never boring, and independence of action—there is no limit except ability.

They were very pleased with their visit and with the questions the students asked them.

FBLA ELECTS OFFICERS

At the last meeting of FBLA officers for the next semester were elected. They are President, Janice Johnson, and treasurer, Barbara Sayers. Other officers will be elected in the fall. The club and the retailing class will have a party, held at our sponsor, Mr. Sardiga's home on Friday, May 27.

U. OF I. GIVES TIPS ON GARDENING

Only those who have a garden are assured the pleasure of having perfectly fresh vegetables, properly matured for their tables, says William F. Whiteside, Cook county assistant farm adviser.

A good plot of ground is of great importance in the success or failure of a garden, equaled in importance only by the intelligence, training and sustained interest and industry of the gardener.

At sunny area of loose, fertile soil sloping slightly to the south, is ideal for a vegetable garden. This area should be well drained. Plant roots must have air, which they cannot get if soil is saturated with water.

The soil should be tested to determine the proper fertilizer to apply, Whiteside says. If it is impossible to get the soil tested, the following recommendations may be followed: On soil which has been fertilized heavily in recent years, apply 10 to 15 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer per 1000 square feet. On soil that has received little or no fertilizer, apply 35 to 40 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer per 1000 square feet.

For other useful information on growing vegetables in the garden, consult the "Illinois Garden Guide" which is from the farm advisers office or the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

CHECK FIGURES BEFORE BUYING SEPTIC TANK

Farmers and suburban homeowners should check the specifications carefully before they buy a septic tank.

Cook County's Assistant Farm Adviser, William F. Whiteside says some septic tanks are being sold that will not give good service and will cause unnecessary trouble.

Here are the specifications one should check, according to F. W. Andrew, extension agricultural engineer at the University of row.—Journal of Living.

Illinois college of agriculture.
1. Minimum liquid capacity of 500 gallons. 2. Minimum wall thickness of three inches and minimum internal diameter of 54 inches. 3. Minimum reinforcement of 6 x 6 x 10 welded steel, or equivalent. 4. Giant Generator
The world's largest steam-electric generating unit will be installed at a new plant of the Philadelphia Electric Co. The 275,000-kw steam turbine and generator is planned to operate at the "heretofore unheard of" steam pressure of 5,000 pounds per square inch. The steam boiler will be the size of a 14-story building 100 by 75 feet, and contain more than 150 miles of tubing. At full capacity, the twin furnaces will burn about 100 tons of pulverized coal per hour.

Farmer Ole and three of his neighbors were chatting around the stove in a country store one day last winter. Conversation ran about as follows:

"That Harold Stassen has $10 billion in unexpended funds for foreign aid and is now asking for $5 billion more to give away. How can Ike balance the budget at that rate?"

"Uncle Sam must be getting senile. He thinks he has more money than he can spend himself so he proposes to give it away but the bucketful of suffering humanity all over the world. The trouble is Uncle Sam hasn't any money to give away. Actually he is up to his neck in debt, and getting in deeper by the minute."

"Uncle Sam should stop supporting the world; stop underwriting phony prosperity at home and abroad; stop bolstering the shaky currencies of other nations. If Uncle Sam doesn't stop these crazy schemes, we can look forward to more deficits, more debt, more inflation, more dollar depreciation, and more political welfare schemes."

"Well boys," asked the fourth farmer, "wouldn't you say our main trouble is we have too few 'Byrds' and too many 'Stassens' in Congress?"

Mr. Gross (R-Iowa): "Mr. Speaker, I deeply regret reading in yesterday's (April 17, 1955) newspapers that President Eisenhower has ordered Secretary of State Dulles to create a new foreign giveaway agency.

"Despite the fact that Congress ordered the liquidation of these so-called aid programs in 1952, the President is now calling for the establishment of a new agency to be known as the International Cooperation Administration and an appropriation of nearly $4 billion. And the President is quoted as saying he recognizes this foreign handout business as an 'integral part of the fabric of our international relations.'"

"I would remind Mr. Eisenhower that this profligate forcing spending is also an integral part of the fabric of our stupendous federal debt and annual deficits."

"And so, Mr. Speaker, a brand new three-letter contraction - ICA - for another perfumed title - International Cooperation Administration - is to be added to our vocabularies; the moving vans will back up to the doors of the expiring and unlamented FOA, and the game of tossing out the taxpayers' money to foreign governments will open at a new stand."

Foreign Aid Borrowing And Interest Paid

During the past 14 years Uncle Sam has paid out in foreign aid the amount of $109,044,800,000 - every dollar of which was borrowed. During that 14-year period we paid out in interest alone on these borrowed give-away dollars the amount of $18,606,524,000.

This means that the $109 billion borrowed for our foreign give-away programs will have to be paid by our children and our children's children. It also means that we have already paid almost $19 billion in taxes for interest alone. Quite a heavy burden to assume, is it not?

Interesting But True

According to the March report of the "committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures," headed by Senator Harry Byrd, we still have on the federal payroll 2,353,573 civilian employees and an additional 341,517 foreign nationals employed by the U. S. government abroad, working for the military agencies overseas. The federal civilian payroll now totals nearly $10 billion per year - quite a heavy tax load by itself.

HOMES CAN BE DANGER SPOTS

Home is where the heart is, the poet says.

Home can also serve as a back door to a hospital, or morgue according to the safety experts. One of them attached to the U. of I. collage of agriculture extension service says more than twice as many fatal accidents occurred in farm homes last year as on farms outside the house. More than half of the home accidents that resulted in death were due to falls and fractures and most of the falls - 80 per cent - occurred when the victim fell on the same level. Stairs and stepladders helped with others. Also responsible for many deaths were the explosions that followed the use of gasoline or kerosene in starting fires.

And outside on the farm statistics show that the only one to benefit from carelessness about a tractor are the hospitals or undertakers - sometimes both.

STEP INTO YOUR WIFE'S SHOES

...and Take
This Burden Off
Her Shoulders

Start with this fact. Seven out of ten women survive their husbands. Then stop and visualize the problems your wife may have to face—all alone, overnight, and at a time when grief renders her least capable of facing them.

For her sake, face, as a family, two of those decisions now. Select a family plot in a cemetery that allows you the privilege of erecting a monument of granite or marble. Choose and buy that monument while you can pay for it out of income rather than leave it for her to purchase out of your estate.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 124

Resources Of God Lesson for May 29, 1955

A CRIPPLED American carrier after the battle of Leyte was zig-zagging its way to what looked like certain death. Faster Japanese craft were after it, their shots were coming closer. The only hope any one on board could have was that by shifting course and speeding again and again, they might be able to outpace the inevitable end. Finally in mid-afternoon, just when drowning seemed closer than ever, for some reason the Americans never understood, the enemy ships gave up the chase and pulled away. The chaplain gathered the men on deck and there read the 124th Psalm (our devotional reading for the week) as if it had been written for the occasion: "If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us, then they would have swallowed us up quick... then the waters had overwhelmed us."

The Resources of God
God (said Napoleon) is on the side with the largest battalions. Napoleon was not acquainted with God or he would hardly have said that. There have been too many occasions when the biggest battalions, the best military material (sic), the ablest generalship, did not turn the trick. God has sometimes appeared to be on the side of very small battalions. Sometimes it's a kind of mystery how it's done. But history carries the record. There was the time when the Hebrew slaves left Egypt in spite of the best army in the world. There was the time described in the Bible reading this week, when the God-fearing King Hezekiah and his people—a much smaller little country than many another that had fallen to defeat by mighty Assyria—was saved by a miracle. There was the time later in Manasseh "seduced the people."

He did this without benefit of radio, TV, or advertising in slick magazines. Nowadays how easy it is to seduce the millions! One "spot" on one radio station can reach a hundred thousand people. Pictures can be made so lifelike that they can deceive almost anybody that is not smart. Seducing the people is simple, if you have the money.

Half-gods Arrive

"When half-gods go, the Gods arrive," sings a poet. You can turn that around and still be right. When God goes, half-gods will swarm in. When bad Manasseh ruled his land, for a long time he would have nothing to do with the true God. But he was not an atheist, oh not by any means. He put up altars all over the place, even in the courts of the Lord, you could hardly get out of sight of some place of worship in Jerusalem. He dealt with mediums and with wizards. All sorts of bad religions and silly superstitions flourished under his majesty's patronage. You may be sure he was no lone idolator. You can hear them saying down on the farms, and out in the little villages, "well, if it's good enough for King Manasseh, it's good enough for me." So it is still and always. There have been times when religion "declined" as the quaint phrase puts it, here in America as in ancient Judah. But that was only the declining of the true religion. Other religions and cults and superstitions flock in to take Christianity's place. People simply will not live in a religious vacuum. They would rather be idolaters than atheists.

A High-flyer Humbled

This King Manasseh lost a war. For some time he was a prisoner in an enemy country. When he came back home again he was a changed man. Prison had given him leisure to think. Things were different in Judah after that. He did his best to undo the evils he had set the example in doing. He went to church, as we would say, and he listened to men of God. It was a little too late, for his son Amon had already gone too far in the ways of evil to turn back. But still it was well that he repented, for many of his subjects served the true God thereafter, as he did. Suppose America—that is to say, millions of Americans, leading men and women in every walk of life, repented this year of even one of our national sins—say drunkenness. It would be good to repent... but would that bring back all the lost week-ends?

Millionth Cow Is Bred Under Curtiss Program

The popularity and success of artificial breeding in developing and improving dairy herds, is graphically attested by the announcement of Robert McDannell that the millionth cow has been bred under the Curtiss program.

This cow, a Holstein, is of the famous Mooseheart herd at Mooseheart, Ill.

Mr. McDannell is the representative of the Curtiss Candy Co. Improved Stud service in this area. The influence of outstanding bulls is evident in all parts of the nation, he said.

This millionth cow, Mr. McDannell points out for the benefit of breeders and those interested in bloodlines, is a daughter of Pabst Sir Roburke Ragapple and was bred to Curtiss Candy Dandy Curtiss, son of Curtiss Candy Dandy George. All three of these bulls are in the Curtiss service.

The Curtiss stud is made up of more than 125 sires in eight breeds. Many of them are state, national and international champions and all have been chosen on the basis of outstanding production performance behind them.

The Curtiss company is interested in dairy herd improvements because it uses some 60-million pounds of dairy products annually in the manufacture of its confections. Its farms were started in 1924 by the late Otto Schneringer, founder of the Curtiss company.

Artificial breeding not only gives the average farmer opportunity to employ the services of outstanding sires that otherwise would be unable to obtain, but it also is important as a safety factor.

Championship bulls cost a lot of money—too much for the average farmer, it was pointed out, so he either has to employ the service of a mediocre animal of his own or a scrub owned by one of his neighbors. Artificial breeding enables the herd owners to get the services of the best bulls. By eliminating mean bulls never hurt anyone, the necessity of keeping a bull on the premises a farmer also is protecting himself against injury or death.

And it was pointed out that it is always the bull raised from a calf and gentle as a kitten that kills or maims persons. The mean bulls never hurt anyone, probably because those who deal with them are always on their guard.

"You really should make up your mind, dear. Now you have a red policeman and a green light to choose from."

KING'S Kolumn
STATE CAPITAL REPORT
by Rep. JOHN M. KING

Show down battle on reapportionment is on.

Remap committees in both the house and senate have now completed their suggested boundaries and this week should open the struggle by individuals and parties to alter and amend the proposals.

Present plans call for both DuPage and Will counties to be set up as single representative districts each with representation from three house members.

If the senate plan that is now completed is adopted without change, DuPage and Will counties will make up the 41st senatorial district.

All other legislative activity in the house may come to a halt to get this perplexing remap job out of the way. Since Republicans control the senate by a good margin and the house by an edge, the present plans will slightly favor the majority party.

However, with the aid of only two or three disaffected republicans in the house the democrats could effectively block any remap plan - if they can keep rigid party discipline operating.

Some political observers point to the possibility that the trouble that has been brewing between downstate and Cook county democrats over sectional legislation could break out into the open and thus frustrate efforts of democrats to fight for a better remap deal for their party.

Sweeping political changes such as the reapportionment program have always caused battle and bitterness, but, just as eggs must be broken to make a cake, some individuals will have to suffer in order to clean up some of the state's "rotten boroughs."

The house has advanced my bill to ban the manufacture of slot machines to passage stage. Its next hurdle is a final vote in the house. If it is passed, the measure will go to the senate.

In other action the house appropriations committee recommended favorably a bill that I am sponsoring to create an Illinois fiscal control board.

Should this bill become law it would be of the greatest service to the taxpayers in that it would help the legislators to do a better and more intelligent job of trimming the state budget.

Two bonus bills for Korean veterans were advanced both in the house and the senate. Both call for payments of $10 a month for duty in the country and $15 for each month spent overseas.

The bill in the house was passed and sent to the senate and the bonus bill in the upper chamber was advanced to passage stage.

Both of the bonus measures differ in the method of raising the money that will be necessary. In any event, the voters will be given the final decision, since either measure, if passed, must be submitted to them for approval or rejection.

Illinois now has an official slogan - "The Land of Lincoln." Gov. Stratton last week signed the slogan measure that was sponsored by Senator Fred Hart of Ottawa. Although the slogan has appeared on our license plates in the past years, this action makes it official.

The senate has sent to the house a bill that would permit absentee voting for sick or disabled persons. This bill would let Christian Scientists vote under its provisions without medical examination.

BABSON SAYS-

Copyright, 1954, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

The small, non progressive farmer is gradually being forced out of business. The trend is toward large mechanized farms. I forecast that this trend will continue. The stubborn farmer simply cannot compete, over the long term, with the low cost mass production methods of the modern mechanized farm. He has not sufficient land and will not buy the necessary equipment.

Small Farmers Hit
Farm income has declined an average about 8 percent since 1951. This decline has been felt by all farmers, but particularly by the smaller operators whose costs are high. Some have had to close up shop. Those in the Dust Bowl area were dealt another severe blow recently when Federal Crop Insurance was discontinued in certain sections.

With drawal of this insurance will be felt especially by the small marginal farmer. Banks which heretofore have been willing to make loans to marginal farmers with crop insurance protection are now neither willing nor able to risk their depositors' funds. Some day it may be possible to predict and control the weather.

This should be a great help to the farmer, but would apply only to production, not to demand.

Government acreage control has helped the small farmer compete against his bigger brother to the extent that the large mechanized operator has been forced to restrict his output. This, however, is only a stopgap measure and is unfair to the mass production farmer because he cannot make full use of his facilities. This reduces his efficiency and ups his costs. Some day mechanized farmers will revolt against this artificial restriction in much the same manner as the discount houses are currently overthrowing the Fair Trade laws.

Push Button Farming
Although the day of wholly-mechanized farms is still in the distant future, some amazing devices have been developed and are now in use. The farmer can now push a button to grind, mix and serve feed to a barnful of cows. Pushing another button changes the feed formula and the machine serves the hay, pushing a third button prepares and serves feed to the chickens. Talk about the big city automatic restaurants! Those who have done chores on a farm will readily appreciate the time and back breaking labor these machines save. I forecast that women will supersede men in running certain farms.

Another valuable machine is the hay and grain dryer, which roughly corresponds to the house wife's clothes dryer. The dryer makes the farmer less dependent on the weather and lets him harvest at his convenience. It reduces spoilage and gives him more value from his crop. In addition, there are machines for planting, spraying, and harvesting, plus countless practical gadgets that make farm work more pleasant and efficient.

Should Plan for Future
I forecast the future is bright for farmers who have well located farms and will adopt the new equipment, and for the makers of this new farm equipment; but I fear the days of many stubborn, small marginal farmers are numbered. Fortunately, the impact of mechanization will be gradual, but this is a problem which should be recognized and planned for now by the farmer and his children. Government should get together with industry and try to make this transition as easy as possible. Farm workers especially should face up to the situation realistically.

In industry, the man who finds work in his own line diminishing, turns to another type of business. He frequently does much better in the new endeavor. In this connection, many small farmers and farm workers have nothing to lose. Most farm people have character, courage, and good health. They often have the advantage of being handy with tools. In planning and running their farms they have had valuable administrative and supervisory experience. What does this all mean? To me it means that one of the farmer's sons or daughters might do well to adopt the new conditions and remain with the farm; but the "hired men" with ambition had better get jobs elsewhere. Employers may well use the "Help Wanted" ads in farm areas as job opportunities arise.

BEGIN WORK TO RID DISTRICT
OF MOSQUITOES

Cream-colored jeeps with the black initials "S.C.C.M.A.D." on their hoods are rolling along the highways, back-roads and village streets of the 360 square mile South Cook county mosquito abatement district, carrying survey crews who are detecting and mapping mosquito breeding sources on a section by section basis. The locating and mapping of all breeding sources in the 230,400 acres of the district is the first operational season. However, major potential problem areas indicated by last year's reconnaissance survey are being carefully watched. Inspection of these sites for the presence of mosquito larvae (wigglers) is in progress.

Public Enemy No. 1

The obnoxious little pest, aedes vexans, is the mosquito that the district is training its sights on for the 1955 season. When Dr. William R. Horsfall, professor of entomology, University of Illinois, the foremost mosquito authority in Illinois, surveyed the area, he named this species the number one trouble-maker out of the thirty or so species found in the district. Consequently the manpower and abatement resources of the district for this year will be largely directed toward the major breeding sources of this particular menace. This mosquito lays its eggs on dry ground during the summer. The eggs mature through the freezing winter or the hot dry periods, then when weather conditions are right and flooding occurs they rapidly develop from egg to the severe-biting adult in a matter of a week or ten days. Just to complicate the problem, if the right conditions don't develop the first year, the eggs will still be ready to produce mosquitoes the following or even the third year.

Use Chemicals Now

As the presence of larvae is established at specific sites, the major producing areas will be placed under control. The long range plans of the district call for permanent reduction of such sources. This summer, however, almost entire reliance will be placed on chemical control. It is estimated that by August all of the more important sources of vexans that have been located will be receiving routine treatment.

Principal reliance will be placed on anti-larval control using DDT. Same emergency control measures aimed at adult mosquitoes may be necessary in localized situations, but the most efficient and economical control occurs when abatement is aimed at the mosquito while it is still in the wiggler stage.

In the season when evaluation can be based on actual experience, plans will be made for minor drainage or reclamation activities, and the actual basic program of the district to eliminate sources of breeding will begin to take shape.

Explains Plans

In estimating what the people of the district may expect in the 1955 season, district manager W. J. Buchanan states: "The board of trustees of this district has wisely set forth a program policy for mosquito abatement that is both scientific and practical. It is scientific because it places primary emphasis on securing complete and accurate information upon which all our immediate and future work plans must be based. It is practical because it provides for a degree of relief from the mosquito annoyance even during the first year of operation by utilizing available information to guide us. By concentrating our activities on the number one mosquito menace, we stand a better than average chance this first season of providing the citizens of the district partial relief from the extremely annoying and severe-biting aedes vexans that has plagued them in the past from about June to September."

Maue school children enjoyed a field trip to Chicago, Thursday, where they visited Shedd aquarium and the Museum of Natural History. Children traveled by bus and were accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Knieriem, Mrs. Roy Walker, Mrs. Louis Froemel and their teachers, Mrs. Helen Lemboke and Mrs. Hazel Brown.

Orland's elementary school evened the score with Maue when they won the baseball game played on Orland grounds Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stuart Culp entertained at a demonstration party, Friday evening. Guests were from Chicago and Alpine.

The last square dance of the season held at Maue school Friday evening was well attended and enjoyed by all. All are hoping that Robert Laing, popular caller and instructor, will again be on hand for next season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felsch, Sandra, Patsy and a guest, Carla Mrosek, spent a pleasant week end visiting with Mrs. Felsch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Splitke, at Friendship, Wis.

Gardeners have been enjoying asparagus, lettuce, radishes, onions and rhubarb from their gardens lately and a few ripe strawberries are being picked here and there.

If Owen Maue seems to be keeping a step ahead of himself these days, it might just be that the fine catch of fish the Maues caught at Portage, Wis. over the week end, has something to do with it.

Albert Reeves and Edward Mrosek were initiated into the Moose lodge in Lockport, Sunday afternoon, May 14. Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. Mrosek were also initiated into the ladies auxiliary of the Moose the same day. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Culp. The Culp's also sponsored their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Alice, of Hinsdale. May 14 will be memorable to Moose members in the area because their beautiful new building was dedicated on that day.

There seems to be many more crows than usual in the district this year.

The Orland Boys 4H club met Monday night, May 16 at Maue school. The meeting was called to order by the president, Walter Bernard. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Darrell Erickson. One new member, David Mizysak, joined the club. Lawrence Lauffer and Darrell Erickson each gave a talk on his dairy project.

Before the meeting there was a game of softball. Pop and sandwiches were served by Arthur Maue and Robert Stellwagen.

ENTOMOLOGISTS MAKE SURVEY

A survey of the insect situation as prepared by entomologists of the Illinois Natural History survey, and the University of Illinois college of agriculture reveals the following information with regard to field crop insects:

Corn Borer

Recent cool weather has retarded corn borer development somewhat, although it is still a week to 10 days earlier than normal. Moisture and warmer weather will increase pupation. Moths have started flying in the southern third of the state.

Chinch Bugs

Thin stands of small grain in southern Illinois have been damaged by a heavy infestation of chinch bugs. For central and northern Illinois the weather during the next three weeks will be critical. Muggy conditions favor a fungus disease of chinch bugs, while warm, dry weather is favorable for chinch bug survival.

Cutworms

Early field of corn may be damaged by cutworm. Watch for signs of damage and, if necessary, apply two pounds of toxaphene or one half pound of dieldrin per acre as a band treatment over the row. Use at least 20 gallons of finished spray per acre.

Grain Storage

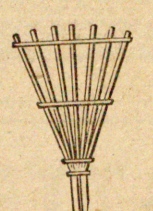

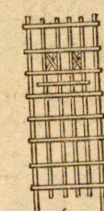

If this years crop of small grain is to be stored on the farm, plans should be made to sweep out the bins and clean out all old grain in and around the bins. Follow this with a DDT spray prepared by mixing 2 quarts of 25% DDT and 4 1/2 gallons of water. Apply finished spray at the rate of 2 gallons per 1000 square feet of surface of grain bin.

Unlike men, self-made women have to keep adding finishing touches daily. - Wall Street Journal

Before you buy any range, find out

Which is Faster

FLAME TYPE
5 minutes 31 seconds—still below boiling point

ELECTRIC
5 minutes 31 seconds—at boiling point

RESULTS OF RECENT IMPARTIAL RESEARCH:
Independent engineers of the R. W. Hunt Company (who made this series of tests) stated: "We ran several speed studies—comparing 3 modern flame-type ranges against 3 modern electric ranges. One electric surface unit boiled a quart of water in 5 minutes and 31 seconds. That was 56 seconds faster than the best flame-type burner tested. We made twenty-one tests in all. Results showed that the three electric ranges averaged 40 seconds faster than the three flame-type ranges." (All ranges tested were top brands.)

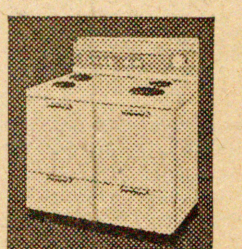

The answer: Nothing cooks faster than today's electric ranges!

If you have to get meals in a hurry, you know speed is important. But modern electric cooking offers more than speed.

For instance, when you cook vegetables the waterless electric way, the flavor is all there! And don't worry about scorching, because the electric unit heats the pan evenly.

There's no cooler way to cook than with a new electric range. Electric ovens are so well insulated they keep your kitchen up to 10 degrees cooler than flame-type.

Hear about our New Installation Plan? It can save you important money on installation of a new electric range. The Plan is available at all appliance dealers' and Commonwealth Edison or Public Service Company stores. Makes owning an electric range so reasonable there really isn't any reason to wait.

New electric ranges low as $2.16 a week, complete, installed!

Mice and Rats Main Diet of Our Large Owls

Two large native owls, the Great Horned Owl and the Barred Owl, also are seen or heard a few times each year in most heavily timbered parts of Cook County. A few years ago, a pair of horned owls nested in the forest preserve near the village of Palos Park. Both are dwellers of deep woodlands and have steadily decreased in Illinois for many decades, partly because of the cutting of the forests and partly because of ill-advised and indiscriminate shooting in the belief that they are game-killers. The barred owl is still common in the wooded floodplains along the Illinois river and other large watercourses. The great horned owl is so scarce as to pass unnoticed except where it is attracted by concentrations of unwary birds at game farms and public shooting grounds, or by waterfowl crippled during the hunting season.

In all of these large owls - with wingspreads up to four or five feet - the female averages somewhat larger, heavier and darker than the male. Because of their mass of loose fluffy feathers, however, the bodies of owls are deceptively small. Eggs are laid two or more days apart, in winter, and incubation begins with the laying of the first egg. As a result the young may be widely different in size. They are covered with white fuzzy down and are blind for the first few days. Both parents share in the incubation and care of the young.

The Snowy Owl is pure white or white flecked with brown, and has large lemon-yellow eyes, a black beak, but no "ear" tufts. It lays 4 to 11 white eggs in a depression on the ground or on a rocky shelf in the treeless tundra of the Arctic regions of both America and Asia. Mice and lemmings furnish most of its food but about every fourth winter, when lemmings become scarce, they move south. Unlike most owls, it hunts in daytime as well as twilight. Almost any day now, someone may spot a snowy owl near Adler Planetarium, where they come to catch rats among the rocks along the lake front. We have seen these rare visitors from the north in the Deer Grove forest preserve, east of Barrington, and in the state parks of central Indiana. They may go much farther south. The Great Gray Owl, also a mouser, builds a nest of sticks high in a tall tree of the forests of the Far North in America, Europe and Asia. It occasionally straggles into our eastern states in winter. Gray in color, with lengthwise dark streaks below, it has yellow eyes, a yellow bill and no "ears."

Our barred owl, likewise "earless," is gray with dark cross-bars on the breast and longitudinal streaks on the belly, with a yellow beak and almost black eyes. Ranging throughout the woodlands of this continent, it lays its 2 to 4 glossy white eggs in a hollow tree or in an abandoned nest of a hawk or crow. Mice and other rodents make up most of the diet. The vivid memories they give youngsters on camping trips - with their raucous hair-raising "ho, hoo, hoo-hoo; hoo, hoo, hoo-hoo-aw" at night - are never forgotten.

The great horned owl is grayish brown with a white throat and yellowish underparts barred with black. With deep yellow eyes and a big black beak, its most distinctive features are its large lynx-like "ear" tufts. The nest is usually a remodeled hawk or owl's nest but they even drive eagles from their eyries and take over. The food is extremely varied: mostly mice, rabbits and rodents; but also insects, song birds, other owls, possums, weasels and, very often, skunks. This is the only owl on the unprotected list in most midwestern and eastern states but, it too, is probably beneficial in the long run.

All these owls are flying mousetraps.
